THE CHINA MAIL.

The following is, we believe, a complete list of English musical knights Sir A. Sullivan, G. Grove, C. H. St. L. Stewart, H. Oakley, G. Elvey, J. Steiner, J. Barnby, W. G. Cusins, and W. Parratt. The number is now not likely to be increased for some time, although to musicians themselves the names will occur of Englishmen far more eminent in their profession than some of those who have already received the honour. Dr. Hubert Parry, for example, is at any rate next to Sir A. Sullivan our greatest contemporary British composer; and there are others who on their merits or by their services have amply won a knighthood. On the other hand, the honour was, we believe, declined by the late Mr. West Hill, and also by a prominent organist who is happily still living.

HONGKONG TRADING COMPANY, LIMITED.

The ordinary half-yearly meeting of this Company was held this afternoon in the Office of Mr. E. Jones Hughes, Chairman, presided; and there were present: Messrs. J. F. C. da Rosa and J. H. Cox (Directors); W. H. Gaskell, S. L. Darby, J. R. Michael, Ozorio, Chin Lin, Lck Ng Tung, R. Lyall (secretaries), and Captain Goddard.

The Chairman said—Gentlemen, as the report has been in your hands for some days, we will with your permission have it as read. Your Directors are pleased to be able to show you a better report for the half year than that of the corresponding period of 1891. The negotiations pending at date of our last meeting in regard to the leasing certain portions of land fronting Queen's Road did not result in business. The new building facing the Harbour is now upon completion and will probably be handed over to us by the contractor about the 30th instant. This will give us 52 additional bedrooms, which we hope to let fully and probably occupied by the time we meet here again. There are reports, which we hope and believe are well founded, that a very great number of tourists from Europe and the Colonies have booked their passage to Chicago by way of the East. If such be the case we must, as a first-class hotel, score many visitors. Every new luxury and improvement that has come to our knowledge we have within our means—intend to fit up the new building, and we hope to make our anticipation of increased occupancy fully realized. The new Bar-rooms will be opened and run on aatty cash basis, and it is intended to reduce the price of drinks to 20 cents for each. No chips will be accepted in that Bar. If there are any questions I will answer them if it is in my power to do so.

No questions were asked. The Chairman proposed the adoption of the report and accounts; Mr. W. H. Gaskell seconded, and the proposal was agreed to unanimously.

Mr. W. H. Gaskell moved the re-election of Mr. E. Jones Hughes as director.

Mr. S. L. Darby seconded, and the motion was agreed to unanimously.

Capt. Goddard moved the election of Mr. A. G. Stokes as Director.

Mr. Michael seconded, but as Mr. Stokes did not receive a sufficient number of votes, the Chairman ruled that he was not elected.

Mr. H. Cox moved the re-election of Mr. E. C. da Rosa.

Mr. W. H. Gaskell seconded, and the election was agreed to.

The Chairman said this was all the business. The dividend warrants will be issued on Monday.

THE ALLEGED CONSPIRACY AND FRAUD BY JEWS.

Evidence in charges of conspiracy and fraud brought against Joseph Samuel and David Saseen, otherwise Makemian, alias David Simeon, was to have been heard in the Police Court this afternoon by Mr. W. C. H. Hastings, but on the application of the prosecution the case was allowed to stand over till Tuesday next.

Upon his Worship taking his seat on the bench Mr. Phillippe, who appeared for the prosecution (instructed by Mr. C. D. Wilkinson) said—I have to ask your Worship for a further adjournment; I would ask that the case be adjourned for one week.

Mr. Denney, who appeared for the defence, said—Civil suits have been commenced against my clients, and judgment will probably be obtained to-morrow. All days have been sworn for sum of money which are really the amounts mentioned in this charge. The sums are, as far as I can make out, that the men are charged with defrauding complainants. All the evidence that they are debts due to them, and they will get judgment against my clients to-morrow; and I say it is unfair to keep this charge hanging over their heads. This is brought simply to make them admit their liability. I ask that they should be discharged.

Mr. Phillippe—This is really a charge with a tremendous lot in it, and it is absolutely necessary that I must consider my position very carefully before going on, and as my friend says no objection.

Mr. Denney—I leave it to the Court.

His Worship—I understand that the defence have no objection to an adjournment, and I think you ought to be in a position to go on in a week. I will adjourn the case till Tuesday.

The defendants, who have been unable to raise the bail fixed by the Court, were then taken back to goal.

INSUBORDINATION IN VICTORIA GAOL.

At the Magistrate's today, Mr. W. C. H. Hastings, charged before Mr. W. C. H. Hastings with refusing duty on Sunday evening.

He pleaded, head turnkey, stated—On the 4th inst. about ten minutes past 6 p.m., the warden sent me to the officers' quarters. I ordered the defendant to go on night duty. He refused. Several officers heard his refusal. He had come off duty at 6 p.m., and had not been on duty since. He had had four hours' duty up to 10 p.m. He ought to have gone on duty at 6 p.m. He should have been on duty till midnight. He was told off.

John Jones, warden, stated—On the 4th inst., the gaoler of the 4th-line defendant was told off for the month to night duty. The men fell in outside the office at 6 p.m. for inspection. Defendant being absent, I sent the last witness to the quarters to ascertain the cause of his absence. Last witness returned and said defendant refused to do duty. I went up myself and saw defendant. He was sober. I expostulated with him. He persisted in his refusal. He made a remark about the length of duty. He had been off duty eight hours. He had been employed about a month in the Gaol. He has only come out from England.

Major-General Sparrow, Acting Superior Judge of the Gaol, stated—On the 4th inst., I received a report that one of the turnkeys had refused duty. I went at once to the Gaol, and sent for the defendant, who had been detailed for night duty from 6 to 12 p.m. I found him perfectly sober, and he deliberately told me that he had no intention of doing his duty. I warned him of the consequences. He said he did not care. He would do no more. I suspended him from duty, and reported him to the Government, who ordered this prosecution.

The defendant is one of a batch of eight Army Reserve men specially enlisted and sent out at Government expense. He arrived about a month ago on a three years' engagement with a prospect of further engagement in the Civil Service of Hongkong.

In his own defence the defendant said:

Mr. Denney—I should ask that no further coats should be given against the other defendant.

Bis Lordship—Surely judgment was given as at the other defendant?

Mr. Denney—Well, I am sure I gave judgment at that time. What date was it?

Mr. Hastings—The 3rd of August.

Bis Lordship (reading from his notes)—Admits the amount claimed with costs?—I took that as judgment. I intended that to be a judgment against the other defendants from that date.

Mr. Denney—And we shall be liable for costs only up to that date.

Bis Lordship—Yes.

Mr. Leach—I do not see why Wong Tam Shui should be asked to pay the costs of this further hearing.

Bis Lordship—You are not asked to pay their costs—only the plaintiff's costs.

Mr. Leach—Why should they have attended here?

Bis Lordship—Nobody can be prevented from coming into Court to judgment and execution could have been issued immediately. Using my discretion as to costs I think it is only fair that the first defendant should pay the costs of the further hearing. It was entirely caused by the first defendant fitting out the case.

That the land not the property of the Dock Company will seriously depreciate in value if the tanks are constructed, is the simple truth. But what will be the effect on the value of the Dock itself? A captain taking the master over said he for one would not allow his ship to be docked there if the tanks were allowed to be constructed. To say the least, it is an innovation of a dangerous nature. Let us suppose by no means unlikely occurring that the tank steamer taking fire through the gross carelessness of coolies as was the case with the kerosene godowns some years ago, would not be shipping in the harbour placed in danger of destruction by the floating oil?

It is an open secret that German firms will buy the land at a good price if the vendor can obtain the Government concession.

The Directors will not allow their personal feelings in favour of their construction to outweigh the sense of duty to the Dock shareholders; and I trust that His Excellency the Governor will see that the question arising in connection with the matter will be settled with simplicity and a lay on them no more.

It was deemed essential that dynamite should be stored on an island. Now kerosene is far more dangerous. Considerable care and trouble are needed to explode dynamite, but with kerosene all that is required is the ordinary and ever-present carelessness of the native coolie. Authorities most in favour of the storage of oil in tanks point out that nothing is more necessary than that well-experienced persons only should be employed. Can the coolies be described?—Yours &c,

SHAREHOLDER.

A CHINESE PARTNERSHIP CASE.

In this suit the plaintiff (Chang Hing Wan) sued Wong Tsai and others, partners in the Him Loong pig-dealing shop, for $1000, alleged to be due on a promissory note, dated March 25, 1892, and the costs of the suit.

Mr. Hastings (for the plaintiff), Mr. A. J. Leach, instructed by Mr. G. D. Wilkinson, said—I have to ask your Worship for a further adjournment; I would ask that the case be adjourned for one week.

When the case was previously before his Lordship, Mr. Denney submitted to judgment on behalf of his clients. After hearing evidence, his Lordship held there was no evidence to the business the Him Loong was engaged in when the money was borrowed, and it had not having sufficient materials before him to enable him to arrive at a decision he directed that further evidence be adduced, ordering the plaintiff to pay the costs of the two days on which the case had been before him.

Further evidence has since been led, and his Lordship said—I see no reason why the further evidence which has been given to me, to differ from the conclusions of fact at which I arrived in my former judgment in this case. The sole question, therefore, which the Him Loong business is of nature that a partner engaged in it has an implied power to borrow money is to be decided.

Mr. Leach, on behalf of the defendant, took the objection that evidence of other persons engaged in the pig commission business ought not to be given, and he argued that the only question for consideration was whether borrowing money was necessary for the carrying on of the above business, and whether it was usual in the trade. I could not, however, accede to this view, and I held that the evidence of the plaintiff, that the Him Loong business and its principal object was to buy and sell pigs, was sufficient to establish that the plaintiff's contention was correct.

Mr. Leach, on behalf of the defendant, said—I have to ask your Worship to give a general opinion as to the law of partnership in Hongkong.

Mr. Hastings (for the plaintiff), Mr. A. J. Leach, instructed by Mr. G. D. Wilkinson, said—I have to ask your Worship to give a general opinion as to the law of partnership in Hongkong.
